ANTITRUST AND RELATED ISSUES, AND THER SOLUTIONS IN INTERNATIONAL TRADE AND PRODUCTIVE INVESTMENT

Aims of This Symposium

(1) To examine the principal national and supranational antitrust and other trade-regulating laws that will or may bear upon the businessman when doing business in a multinational situation;

(2) To outline and discuss the legal problems presented by those laws and their inevitable overlapping and conflict, which may restrain international trade and productive investment more than the laws in question will promote it, and

(3) To explore measures that have been or may be adopted to harmonize those laws, thus solving at least some of the issues posed by their present and future overlap and conflict.
