THE SUMMER SCHOOL OF LAW IN ENGLAND ITS ORIGIN AND PURPOSE

The College of William and Mary in Virginia has had significant relationships with England throughout its history. The College was chartered in 1693 by the reigning sovereigns, William and Mary, whose name it bears. The College's first building was constructed in 1695 from plans attributed to the renowned English architect, Sir Christopher Wren, builder of St. Paul's Cathedral in London. Through the efforts of Thomas Jefferson, an alumnus of the College, a chair of Law and Police was established December 4, 1779, thus making William and Mary the first to offer instruction in law in the United States.

In more recent years the College's continuing relationship with England and its educational institutions has been evidenced by an active student and faculty exchange program, and by establishment of the Summer School of Law in England in 1967 on the campus of the University of Exeter in Devonshire.

The William and Mary Summer School of Law in England was the first, and is still the most extensive American program of summer law study abroad. Consonant with the proud heritage of the College, the goal of the program is to provide law instruction in the finest tradition of liberal education. A broad, attractive curriculum is taught by a large faculty of British and American teachers, expert in their fields. Concurrently, the academic and social associations with British members of the legal profession and students from other countries, and the opportunity to learn of the legal, political and social practices of British society through living and travelling in England, provide a uniquely rich cultural experience for the American law student. Over one thousand future lawyers from virtually every accredited law school in the nation have attended the William and Mary Summer Law School in England. There they secured a decidedly broader "world view" of the law and their role as lawyers. This broadening of intellectual perspective is the hallmark of a liberal education, and the "alumni" of this program have carried that broadened perspective into the practice of law, business and politics. The Marshall-Wythe School of Law is proud of this unique educational service to the nation.

Distinguished members of the faculty of Exeter University School of Law agreed to teach some of the courses offered. The program has been further enriched by prominent speakers from the English Bench and Bar, as well as a clerking course with British firms.

CURRICULUM AND CREDITS

The Summer Law School in England, as an extension of the Williamsburg campus, is fully accredited. The 1983 program will consist of one five-week term with 8 courses. Class meetings and duration of classes will be in accordance with the requirements of the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools. Regular class attendance will be expected. A maximum course load is six semester hours. Residence credit will be given commensurate with the number of semester hours credit carried. The Marshall-Wythe School of Law will give the same credits as if the course were being offered on the Williamsburg campus. Law schools having students at previous sessions have approved the transfer of credits for the courses taken by their students. It is urged, however, that registrants clear this matter with their Dean's office at time of application to the program.

ACADEMIC NOTES

The law faculty of the University of Exeter established in 1972 the Centre for European Legal Studies primarily to coordinate teaching, research and training of practicing lawyers in European Economic Community law. Its broader objectives are to develop a systematic study of civil law, comparative and international law. It offers advanced work leading to the LL.M. degree, and its general program is expected to be systematically coordinated with the work of the Summer School of Law. The University of Exeter School of Law has pioneered in this area, and its courses have attracted wide attention from members of the British Bar.

Among the faculty members selected for the annual summer school of law are specialists in such subjects as international public and private law, international business transactions, civil law, and comparative law. Professor Dominik Lasok, Director of the Centre, is an internationally recognized authority on European law, having written some 100 articles on Comparative and International Law and European Community Law as well as several books in his field of expertise. He has been a visiting lecturer and visiting professor at various universities, including Vanderbilt, McGill, University of Michigan, William and Mary, Aix-Marseille and several others.

Professor David L. Perrott, a prolific writer with more than twenty articles to his credit, is an expert in the field of International Commercial Law and European Community Law of Commerce as well as Sudanese personal property law. He has taught at several universities, including the University of Illinois and has been on the faculty of Exeter University since 1965. He has been consultant to the British Government and the Commission of the EC on proposed, and the workings of existing, commercial legislation.

Professor John W. Bridge, on the faculty of the University of Exeter since 1961, has written numerous articles in the field of public law, particularly constitutional law, administrative law, European law and international law. His work has been published in American, English and European law reviews; he is also the author of several books in his fields of expertise.

One of the objectives of the Summer School of Law in England is to provide an understanding of the common law system, in the mother country of the common law. In addition to basic course work in the English legal system, many of the American law courses in the same curriculum emphasize comparisons with English law.

The legal clerking course affords the student an insight to the British practitioner's daily routine in the various aspects of the practice, including research, client consultation and courtroom experience. Discussion of the legal issues involved in the cases being handled gives the student the benefit of the British approach to legal analysis.

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

Exeter is an attractive and ancient cathedral city only 12 miles from the beaches of the South Devon coast. The Cathedral is a superb example of the Decorated Gothic Style (1280-1370), with Norman transept towers unique in England. The Guildhall dates from the Middle Ages having been rebuilt in 1330. Pubs, including one frequented by Charles Dickens, and inns abound. Excellent theatre and music programs are available also. Various social and cultural activities are sponsored by the Summer Law School.

In Exeter, in Devonshire, and in the surrounding counties of Southwest England are many historic sites within short distances that date from Roman times (200 A.D.) through the Middle Ages, the Norman Conquest and the Elizabethan era.

Day trips by bus at reasonable rates are available to Dartmouth, Dartmoor, and other interesting sites in Devon. Weekend trips are also available to Penzance (Cornwall's principal town), Bath, Tintagel Castle (believed to be King Arthur's castle), St. Ives, and Stonehenge. Direct, fast train service to London is available several times daily. Classes are scheduled Monday through Thursday, thus three day weekends will be available for extended sightseeing trips.

Organized, but optional, tours are arranged by the program: on a Saturday a chartered bus trip to Plymouth, and on a Sunday a boat trip on the river Dart. A three day weekend trip to London, affording a visit to the City and its historic, political, and legal sites, is also arranged on an optional basis. The cost of these trips is not included in the fees.

TRANSPORTATION

Applicants should make their own travel arrangements. Please see the "Studying and Living in Exeter" pamphlet for information on the various types of low fare flights available through your travel agent.

LIVING FACILITIES

Modern dormitories, dining hall, and classrooms of Exeter's campus, as well as the law library of the University are available for the program's use. Within brief walking distance of the Law School building is the Lafrowda residential complex used by the Summer School of Law in England. The Lafrowda complex is a recently constructed residence facility for single men and women and for married students and their families.

All rooms are single rooms. Couples and families are furnished two rooms, one to be used as a bedroom and the other as a living room. Families with children are furnished three or more rooms.

Each floor has kitchen and bathroom facilities used in common by residents. Linens and daily maid services are supplied. Coin operated washers and dryers are in the Lafrowda complex and dry cleaning facilities are within walking distance.

Meals are served cafeteria style. Room and board cannot be paid separately.

Tennis courts, a swimming pool, a student pub, a game room (modest fee for use of equipment), a television room, and a large student lounge are provided for the students' use. Students from England and from other countries also are on campus at Exeter during the summer.

A limited number of off-campus housing facilities are available. Though within walking distance of the University, they are modest by American standards but are low priced. Students must make arrangements for off-campus housing by corresponding directly with individual landlords. A list of off-campus housing is furnished registering students.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Five partial tuition scholarships in the amount of $250 each will be awarded solely on the basis of academic performance. To be eligible for consideration for scholarship assistance, an applicant must submit an application for admission to the program, the required registration fee, and the following information:

a. An applicant who will enter law school in the Fall of 1983 must provide a copy of his college transcript, a copy of his LSAT Report showing his college Grade Point Average and a copy of his notice of admission to an ABA-approved law school.

b. An applicant who currently is a first year law student must provide a copy of his college transcript, a copy of his LSAT Report showing his college Grade Point Average, a transcript of any law school grades received based on a 4.0 scale, and a letter of good standing from the dean of his law school.

c. All other applicants must provide a transcript of all law school grades received based on a 4.0 scale, a statement of class standing if available, and a letter of good standing from the dean of his law school.

ELIGIBILITY

This program is open to students in good standing at any law school approved by the American Bar Association, to students accepted for admission to approved law schools, and graduates of approved law schools. An applicant must submit with the application: a statement of good standing from his law school if he is currently enrolled, a statement of admission if he is entering law school in the fall of 1983, or evidence of graduation from an ABA-approved law school if he is a law school graduate.

E10 EUROPEAN COMMUNITY LAW General Principles (2)

LASOK & BRIDGE (Exeter)

Survey of the legal status of the European Community, sources of Community law, the council, commission, assembly and court of justice of the Community, implementation of Community law in member states of the Community, and enforcement of Community law. Consideration will also be given to the commercial law of the European Community.

E11 INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS (2)

PERROTT (Exeter)

The sources of rules regulating International Business: treaties and conventions, domestic sources, transnational business practice and usage. International Sales: conflicts problems, applicable conventions, standard trade terms. Commercial paper, sales finance, insurance and export guarantees. International carriage of goods and containers. International aspects of anti-trust and industrial property regulation; forms of multinational establishment, distribution and licensing. International commercial arbitration and litigation; state trading; international bankruptcies and liquidations.

E13 INTERNATIONAL LAW (2)

PUGSLEY & DOCKSEY (Exeter)

The nature and sources of international law; the relationship between international law and municipal law, the concept of statehood and recognition; the law of treaties; the protection of fundamental human rights; International organizations; International settlement of disputes; the law of war.

E14 ENGLISH LEGAL SYSTEM: WITH SPECIAL EMPHASIS ON THE CRIMINAL PROCESS (2)

STONE (Exeter)

The sources of English law. The English court system. The structure of the legal profession. Precedent and statutory interpretation. The trial process. Police powers and suspects rights. The criminal trial. Appeal rights. Comparison between English and U.S. criminal procedures.

E15 ECONOMIC REGULATION OF BUSINESS (2)

LeBEL (William and Mary)

The course will examine the premises upon which certain industries have been economically regulated, and the types of regulation that can be imposed. The regulation of price, entry and service in the United States will be compared with the nationalization alternative adopted in some European countries.

NOTE: The course will include a substantial amount of economic analysis, but no prior knowledge of or experience in economics is required.

E16 PRODUCTS LIABILITY (2)

LeBEL (William and Mary)

The course will present the developing principles of products liability law, with various comparisons to product safety regulation. This course will build upon rather than duplicate the study of tort law performed in the survey Torts course. Alternatives to the American approaches to the problem of defective and unsafe products will be examined.

E17 LAW OF MASS COMMUNICATIONS (2)

COLLINS (William and Mary)

Comparative American and selected British problems in mass communication and journalism. Emphasis on concepts of freedom of speech, regulation of radio and television and concepts of fair trial/free press, and comparison of access to information under federal and state law and the British Official Secrets Act.

E21 LEGAL CLERKING (1)

LASOK (Exeter)

A limited number of legal clerking positions with British lawyers are available on a first come, first served basis. Specific information will be furnished upon registration.

TUITION AND EXPENSES

Notwithstanding a high inflation rate in Britain, we were able to convince the University of Exeter authorities to hold the room and board fees approximately to the same level as that of the prior year. These actions are in keeping with our traditional objective of offering our program at the most reasonable charges to enable the greatest number of students to participate.

Board includes three meals Monday through Wednesday, breakfast and lunch on Thursday, and dinner on Sunday. This is the equivalent of four full day meals per week. Other meals may be purchased separately.

DEADLINES FOR APPLICANTS

March 15, 1983 - Last date for submitting applications and required supporting documents for those seeking tuition scholarships.

April 15, 1983 - Last date for submitting applications for those not seeking tuition scholarships. Because of the limited enrollment, however, it is recommended that applications be filed well in advance of this date, since, in fairness, qualified applicants will be accepted in the order their applications are received. The forms on the last two pages of this brochure should be used.

April 15, 1983 - Last date for payment of $560 for room and board. This payment is refundable subject to penalty depending on date of cancellation.

May 14, 1983 - Full payment of tuition. Tuition is refundable thereafter only if applicant is unable to attend for verified reasons of illness or military service obligation. Withdrawal for other reasons is subject to 10% tuition penalty.
