Alumni from milestone reunion classes are the architects and developers of Alumni Weekend. These volunteer leaders and their committees sketch out the blueprint for the weekend, work to insure our Alumni crew shows up for the Class Parties and meet the construction goals for the Class Gift. With every new letter from your Reunion Committee, we hope your Excitement is Building for Alumni Weekend. Immediately following the Student-Alumni Reception, join your classmates as Law School stories are relived and retold with the people who shared them the first time around. Alumni who are not celebrating a milestone reunion are invited to attend the class party of their choice.

All Class Parties take place at the Williamsburg Hospitality House.

Reunion giving is an essential part of the Law School’s fund-raising program. Class Gifts are vital to maintaining and improving the quality of legal education at William & Mary Law School. Members of reunion classes are asked to participate in their class gift by making a multi-year pledge to the Annual Fund. Participation is an important part of the gift.

The Dance Party begins after the class parties end and continues until Midnight. All alumni and the Class of 2001 are invited to attend.
Facility expansion, technology, new faculty... and new faces combine to make this year one of the most exciting in the Law School's recent history. Alumni Weekend, April 6th and 7th 2001, is the perfect time to re-construct your law school days, reconnect with old friends and return to Williamsburg to experience the thrill first-hand.

Come back to Williamsburg and help the excitement build...the plans have been laid and we're waiting for you.
