

2005

Competing Visions of the Constitution: Opportunists and Obligationists (Program)

William W. Van Alstyne
William & Mary Law School

Repository Citation

Van Alstyne, William W., "Competing Visions of the Constitution: Opportunists and Obligationists (Program)" (2005). St. George Tucker Lecture. Paper 6.
<http://scholarship.law.wm.edu/tucker/6>

The
ST. GEORGE TUCKER
Lecture Series

William & Mary Law School

March 24, 2005

3:00 p.m.

Room 127

William W. Van Alstyne

One of the nation's foremost legal scholars and teachers, Professor William W. Van Alstyne went to college at the University of Southern California and law school at Stanford, graduating with academic distinction from both. Before becoming a law professor, he served as California's Deputy Attorney General and as a lawyer in the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Justice Department. For almost 40 years, he taught at Duke Law School, where he was enormously acclaimed and held the William R. and Thomas S. Perkins Chair. He came to William & Mary in 2004 as our Lee Professor of Law.

Professor Van Alstyne has twice been chosen in polls of his peers as one of those most qualified for appointment to the Supreme Court. A recent study named him one of the 50 most cited legal scholars of all time. He has been asked to share his expertise and insight with Congress on numerous occasions. His publications are legion, including articles in the nation's leading law journals and books such as THE AMERICAN FIRST AMENDMENT IN THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY, the principal textbook in its field.

In recognition of his extraordinary career, Professor Van Alstyne was elected a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1994.

The 2004/05 St. George Tucker Lecture

“Competing Visions of the Constitution:
Opportunists and Obligationists”

William W. Van Alstyne
Lee Professor of Law

Thursday, March 24, 2005

3:00 p.m.

Room 127, Law School

The St. George Tucker Lecture

The St. George Tucker Lecture Series was established in 1996 to recognize the scholarly achievements of a senior member of the William & Mary Law School faculty each year. The series has been made possible through the generosity of Law School alumni.