1974

Clark Praises Judicial System

Richmond Times-Dispatch

Repository Citation
https://scholarship.law.wm.edu/jpwhyte/10
Clark Praises Judicial System

Richmond, May 2, 1974

Clark was on the Supreme Court from 1969 until it retired in 1974. The recent trial of former Abs.

By Gen. John N. Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice R. Stans showed the strength of the judicial system in that 12 people have the courage to stand up and make important decisions," he said.

Clark was on the board of the National Civil Rights Organization, a group that recently held a symposium in Richmond on civil rights.

Day off program sponsored by the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, the Virginia Bar Association and the Federal Law Enforcement Association.

During the ceremony, Clark was recognized as one of the state's "most successful and most colorful jurists." by Dean James P. Wynn Jr., of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

The Richmond Times-Dispatch, Thursday, May 2, 1974 - B-15