Judge Aundria D. Foster has served on the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court in Newport News since 1991. Prior to her appointment, she served for seven years as Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney for Newport News. She also was an advisor for a nationally recognized domestic violence intervention program called PRIDE. As part of the program, Judge Foster trained administrators of several major police departments in domestic violence intervention.

She is a 1982 graduate of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. In 1994, she received the Citizen Lawyer Award from the Law Alumni Association..
