April 17-18, 2009

Reunion celebrations for the Classes of

The design of the College of William & Mary's Temple Seal is attributed to George Wythe, William & Mary's — and the nation's — first professor of law. On the original seal, an abbreviation, "JURISP.," appeared on the far right column of the ancient Temple Minerva and represented jurisprudence, one of the College's original four core disciplines.

REUNION CHAIRS
The success of Alumni Weekend is due, in great part, to the enthusiasm and dedication of alumni volunteers. Class chairs and class committees play a key role in planning all the festivities and also enlist their classmates to invest in the Law School's future by setting a class gift goal. Our thanks to the chairs, noted below, for their leadership.
