WILLIAMSBURG — The Sec-dar of the College of William and Mary has voted to establish a chapter of the Marshall-Wythe Society of Law at the College of William and Mary, it was announced yesterday.

Law School Dean William A.
Shapley said that the vote was unanimous. Dean Shapley said that the vote was taken in response to a request by the members of the chapter at the University of Iowa that the chapter at the College of William and Mary become the 15th chapter of an existing law school to have a chapter chartered.

In Virginia, there are two other chapters with Coif chapters. The University of Virginia, where a chapter was established in 1929, and George Mason University, where a chapter was established in 1976, which received chapter approval in 1978.
