The Docket

Volume 27, Edition 12

February 24, 2012

IN MEMORIUM - The Law School Community is saddened by the untimely death of our colleague, Professor Charles Koch. Professor Koch was a member of the faculty for over thirty years. While Professor Koch focused primarily on U.S. administrative law, he began learning and teaching about the European Union because he realized its growing importance both in the U.S., in the global legal environment, and ultimately to domestic law.

Professor Koch received his B.A. from University of Maryland, his J.D. from George Washington University and his LL.M. from the University of Chicago. Prior to joining the faculty at William and Mary in 1979, he worked as a staff attorney in the Office of the General Counsel of the Federal Trade Commission and taught at DePaul University's College of Law. He served as Assistant Chief Reporter of the Administrative Law of the European Union Project of the American Bar Association and was past president of the Committee on Sections and Annual Meetings of the Administrative Law Section of the Association of American Law Schools. Professor Koch was a member of the United Nations Affairs Coordinating Committee of the American Bar Association. He also served for seven years as Editor-in-Chief of the Administrative Law Review and twice acted as a consultant to the Administrative Conference of the United States. Professor Koch was a prolific writer, publishing books for both teaching and practice, and numerous articles in law reviews and practitioner-oriented journals. He frequently lectured on administrative law and related topics to academics, practitioners and federal and state judges.

Professor Koch is survived by his wife, Denise, and his son, Andrew; his sisters, Clara Claeys and Barbara Rader; and his brother, Carl Koch.

NEED TO KNOW

CONGRATULATIONS to Justin Mahramas and Matthew Deatley for their success at the recent ABA National Negotiation Competition! In November 2011, Justin and Matt took first place at the ABA Regional Negotiation Competition in Richmond. On account of that victory, they advanced to the National Finals in New Orleans along with 23 other law school negotiation teams from around the country. Matt and Justin recently competed in the National Finals. They negotiated three rounds with three different sets of facts dealing with real property law. They advanced to the semi-finals in this National Competition. Please join me in congratulating Justin and Matt and the entire William & Mary Alternative Dispute Resolution team on their success!

CONGRATULATIONS to Jessica Glajch who's article "Will Special Labeling be Required for All Genetically Engineered Foods?" was published in the January/February issue of The Food and Drug Law Institute's Update magazine.

CONGRATULATIONS to Frances Polifione, Joseph Kamien and Brian Rothenberg who participated in the regional transactional law tournament last week-end in Athens, Georgia. The team won first place for their term sheet for their side and first place for their side overall. They were the only team to take home two awards. This means they will be competing at the national tournament, which will be held at Drexel at the end of March. The Law School community is happy for their success and hope they win again next month.

FINGERPRINTS - Many state bar applications require submission of the applicant's fingerprints.
