Graduate Tax Program (1990-91 Course Offerings and Application)

William & Mary Law School
GRADUATE TAX PROGRAM

Recognizing that the increasing scope and complexity of the taxing system precluded mastery of its provisions during an undergraduate law school career, in 1954 William and Mary instituted one of the first graduate programs in taxation. The program leading to the degree of Master of Laws in Taxation is designed and viewed as a specialized extension of the academic inquiry begun in law school. To that end, the program predominantly consists of small classes taught by full-time faculty using various instructional methods. The curriculum of the program is revised continually to reflect the changing emphasis within the taxing system. The objective of the program is to enhance the competency of attorneys in the field of taxation whether their professional pursuits are in private, corporate or governmental practice or in teaching. In addition to exposing students to the substantive law of taxation, the program develops the critical analytical skills required of any lawyer. Substantial components of the program address the complex ethical questions that tax representation raises and examine the tax and public policies that fashion and have fashioned the taxing system.

ADMISSION INFORMATION

Full-time students are admitted only in the fall of each year. All candidates for admission to the Graduate Tax Program must have received a baccalaureate degree and a professional degree in law from approved colleges or universities. Admission is based upon a careful evaluation of the student's law school performance, LSAT score, recommendations from law school instructors, employment experience and similar relevant factors. In general, admission is limited to students who rank in the upper half of their law school class. Candidates whose law degrees are from foreign countries may be asked to supply supplemental data before their applications are accepted for review.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Candidates holding a Juris Doctor degree from an approved law school, who have successfully completed eighteen credit hours of tax law courses and six credit hours of either tax or tax-related law courses with a quality point average of at least 2.5, will receive the degree of Master of Laws in Taxation. Students may enroll as full-time or, through the Evening Tax Program, as part-time students. Degree requirements must, however, be completed within three years of the beginning of the semester in which a student receives degree candidate status. Furthermore, candidates who have completed 24 hours of work in tax and tax-related courses and have failed to obtain an overall average of 2.5 will not be permitted to receive the degree nor to continue in the program. The courses numbered 709, 715, 716, 719 and 723 are required unless waived by reason of relevant professional experience or prior coursework. In the event of waiver, other tax and tax-related courses must be substituted.

EVENING TAX PROGRAM

The objective of the Evening Tax Program is to enable eligible members of the bar and the accounting profession to improve or refresh their tax knowledge. The program is designed to help those who must work during the day in the legal and accounting professions to keep pace with rapidly changing tax laws. It is expected that two courses from the Graduate Tax curriculum will be offered in the evening in each semester. Courses will be rotated each year; approximately 10 credit hours of different tax courses will be offered each year. Continuation of evening offerings in the tax program is, however, dependent upon satisfactory enrollment levels.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Admission to the Evening Tax Program is open to attorneys having degrees from approved law schools or certified public accountants having degrees from approved undergraduate institutions. Classes may be taken either for graded credit or audited. Students enrolling as auditors will not take final examinations and will not receive grades. Non-degree candidates may take no more than three courses in any semester.

Attorneys who complete more than eight credit hours of graded work with an overall average of 3.0 for all courses taken are eligible to apply for admission to the degree program as part-time students. Courses taken through the Evening Tax Program during the four semesters preceding the application for degree candidacy will be applied toward the degree. However, no more than the five most recently completed courses may be so applied. Students are advised to apply for degree candidacy promptly upon the completion of nine hours.

A provisional graduate student eligible to apply for admission to degree candidacy may continue to enroll for credit whether or not he makes such application. His right to enroll for credit shall end, however, when, having taken more than eight hours of credit, his overall average is under 3.0. A provisional graduate student who, having completed more than eight hours for credit, is not eligible to apply for admission to degree candidacy, shall not be allowed to take further courses for credit and be so notified by the registrar.

THE WILLIAM & MARY TAX CONFERENCE

The annual William and Mary Tax Conference was begun in 1955. The proceedings of the first conference, devoted to the History and Philosophy of Taxation, have been reprinted several times and still attract wide readership. After three decades of successive conferences, the annual proceedings have become a regular publishing event and now are distributed to several thousand law and accounting firms, law libraries and other interested individuals. The Tax Conference makes available to law students and practitioners timely and important factual information on current developments in state and federal tax law, regulations and procedures. The Tax Conference is usually held on the first weekend in December.

CURRICULUM

REQUIRED COURSES

723 Civil and Criminal Tax Procedure. Fall (3), Mr. Kelly.
A study of the procedural problems encountered in the administration of the Internal Revenue laws in both civil and criminal proceedings. The topics covered will include audit and collection procedures, refund and deficiency procedures and litigation, the elements of fraud and tax crimes, internal revenue summonses, privileged communications and policy considerations.

709 Corporate and Shareholder Tax. Fall (3), Mr. Coven.
The taxation of corporations and their shareholder including the organization of corporations, the tax attributes of corporate securities, dividends, redemptions, corporate divisions, the accumulated earnings tax, personal holding companies, collapsible corporations, and the problems of multiple corporate structures. Prerequisite: 311 Federal Income Tax or the equivalent.

716 Federal Tax Policy Seminar. Fall (2), Mr. Coven.
Study of basic policies underlying the evolution and present structure of modern U.S. income taxation, with emphasis on current policy problems and legislative proposals. Coverage includes such areas as the policy considerations and legislative mechanics of tax reform and simplification, proposals for modifications of the corporate income tax structure, and the use of tax systems in promotion of social and economic goals. Production of a significant written work on a tax policy subject of the student's choice is a major course requirement. Students who are not degree candidates may take this course only with the permission of the instructor.

719 Professional Responsibility in Tax Practice. Spring (1), Mr. Coven.
An examination of the rules of conduct and ethical practice that are of particular importance to tax professionals. Through discussion of hypothetical situations, this course is designed to produce a sensitivity to the ethical problems that may arise in a tax practice.

715 Tax Research Methods. Fall (2), Mr. Lee.
Advanced instruction in federal income tax research materials and methodology, with emphasis on problem analysis, the interpretative uses of legislative, administrative, judicial and technical source materials, and the preparation of legal memora-nda, opinion letters, and other written forms of presenting the research product.

ELECTIVE COURSES

A problem analysis of frequent transactions in business practice including choice of entity (partnership, S corporation or C corporation) for domestic and foreign ventures, including professional practice; problems arising upon incorporation, including taxable sales, holding back of assets, and capital structure; cost basis and carryover basis corporate acquisitions; buy/sell agreements; and pitfalls in related party transactions. Prerequisite: 438 Corporate Tax or 709 Corporate and Shareholder Tax.
