Master of Laws in Taxation Program
THE COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY

Founded in 1693 as the second institution of higher education in the country, the College of William and Mary is today a small, residential, all-female, coeducational university. While it is a state university, it is also national in character and contribution, enrolling students from throughout the nation, many with diverse educational, cultural, and national backgrounds. As the College is a part of the reconstruction of Colonial Williamsburg, a partnership of the College, the City of Williamsburg, and the National Park Service, students have unlimited opportunities to learn and live in the beautiful and historic city of Williamsburg. The partnership of the College and the City, the historic Colonial Williamsburg, and the educational, cultural, and social opportunities it offers provide for an environment that allow the teaching and learning necessary to have the resources to achieve excellence. An important aspect of this community is the location of the College in the beautiful and historic city of Williamsburg, where it contributes an integral part of the restoration of Colonial Williamsburg. The partnership of the College, the City, and the restoration of Colonial Williamsburg adds to the quality of life and the quality of education at William and Mary.

The study of law at William and Mary rests upon venerable tradition. Antedated by the Vinerian Professorship at Oxford, held by Sir William Blackstone, and by the Chair at Trinity College at Dublin, the Chair of Law at William and Mary is one of the oldest in the English-speaking world and the oldest in the United States.

Through the years of Thomas Jefferson, the Board of Visitors of the College of William and Mary created a professorship of Law and Police on December 4, 1779. They chose as the first occupant of the Chair George Wythe, who had been a leader in the struggle for independence, both as a signer of the Declaration of Independence and as a member of the Federal Constitutional Convention. Wythe in whose offices studied Thomas Jefferson, James Monroe, and Henry Clay, Wythe, who held a chair in the College of William and Mary, was the first of a line of eminent jurists and legal educators in the College of William and Mary.

Today, the Marshall-Wythe School of Law enrolls 550 students from all regions of the nation, as a state-supported institution, the Law School must maintain a two-thirds Virginia, one-third non-Virginian student body. In keeping with the tradition of the College of William and Mary, the Law School values the development of legal education. During the decade of the professorship, Wythe developed a comprehensive course of study including a course in legislative drafting and moot court.

The legal education offered, however, is national in scope, and prepares graduates to engage in the practice of law throughout the United States. As a state-supported institution, the Law School must maintain a two-thirds Virginia, one-third non-Virginian student body.
Recognizing that the increasing scope and complexity of the taxing system precluded mastery of its provisions during an undergraduate law school career, in 1954 William and Mary instituted one of the first graduate programs in taxation. The program leading to the degree of Master of Laws in Taxation is designed and viewed as a specialized extension of the academic inquiry begun in law school. To that end, the program predominantly consists of small classes taught by full-time faculty using various instructional methods. The curriculum of the program is revised continually to reflect the changing emphasis within the taxing system. The objective of the program is to enhance the competency of attorneys in the field of taxation whether their professional pursuits are in private, corporate or governmental practice or in teaching. In addition to exposing students to the substantive law of taxation, the program develops the critical analytical skills required of any lawyer. Substantial components of the program address the complex ethical questions that tax representation raises and examine the tax and public policies that fashion and have fashioned the taxing system.

TO THE APPLICANT:

Recommendations in support of your application for admission must be submitted on, or accompanied by, this form.

You must complete either section A or B below prior to giving the form to the person asked to submit the recommendation. In the event your school uses a composite form, be sure this form, with a or B signed by you, accompanies the composite recommendation in support of your application for admission. Your recommendation may be written directly on this form using the reverse side or on additional sheets if necessary. Should your recommendation be written as a student at the law school, the form you return may have access to your letter.

A. I authorize release of a candid evaluation to assist in the admission selection process and, should I enroll, for counseling or other educational purposes of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. I understand that the material will be kept confidential. Only the letter should be discussed.

B. I authorize the release of a candid evaluation but I choose not to waive my right to examine this letter of recommendation should I enroll as a student at the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

If the applicant has signed the above waiver, you may be assured that your letter will be kept confidential from both the applicant and the public. If the applicant has chosen not to waive his or her right of access, please be advised that following enrollment as a student at this law school, he or she, upon request, may have access to your letter.

It is important that recommendations be frank and detailed. Brief letters in general terms are of little value. The letters should state the writer’s acquaintance with the applicant and the writer’s opinion of the applicant’s aptitude for the study and practice of law. Any specific knowledge concerning the applicant’s intellectual ability, character, or personality should be discussed.

Your recommendation may be written directly on this form using the reverse side or on additional sheets if necessary. Should you choose to write a letter, this form must be included with the letter as mailed to us.

NO ACTION CAN BE TAKEN ON THIS STUDENT'S APPLICATION UNTIL THIS FORM IS RETURNED.

Return directly to Office of Admissions, Marshall-Wythe School of Law, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, VA 23185.
Thank you for your recommendation of [Candidate's Name] for admission to the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. We appreciate having your comments, and you may be assured that they will be taken into consideration when the candidate's application is reviewed.

Tuition and Fees

The tuition and general fee ($1,834.00 per semester for full-time Virginia students and $4,447.00 for full-time out-of-state students) is a payment toward the general maintenance and operating costs of the College including recreational and health facilities. Board and room charges are additional. Any student registered for the College of William and Mary and for whom part-time student status is not regularly enforced may register for full-time status and will be charged tuition and fees accordingly.

Financial Assistance

Recognizing that many students are unable to pay the full cost of their education, the College administers a financial assistance program. The primary mission of the Office of Student Financial Aid is to aid students who are unable to meet all or part of their educational expenses through other resources.

The College sponsors undergraduate student employment in the form of work-study programs. To be eligible for work-study, students must file the FAFS for the 1990-91 academic year and be registered for at least six credit hours. Financial need is established through the analysis of the FAFS report.

Financial aid for full-time graduate students is available in the form of scholarships, assistantships, Stafford Loans (maximum of $7,500), SLS/PLUS Loans, and two private loans, LAW LOANS and LAW LOANS II. Standards for eligibility for financial aid include academic achievement and enrollment at the College.

The full-time undergraduate student fees for the 1990-91 academic year are as follows:

- Tuition: $1,600.00
- Room and Board: $4,475.00
- Student Activity Fees: $150.00
- Health Insurance: $450.00
- Total: $6,835.00
SCHOLARSHIPS

The J.D. Carneal Scholarship

This scholarship is awarded on an annual basis to a candidate for the degree of Master of Laws in Taxation who shows unusual promise in the practice of tax law. It has been made possible by the continuing generosity of Mrs. J.D. Carneal of Richmond, Virginia, who established the scholarship in memory of her husband, the late J.D. Carneal.

The Paul M. Shapiro Memorial Scholarship

The family and friends of the late Paul M. Shapiro, '63, have funded this scholarship in his memory for an annual award to a William and Mary law student who, upon completion of the requirements for the Juris Doctor degree, intends to continue in residence in the Master of Laws in Taxation program.

ADMISSION INFORMATION

Full-time students are admitted only in the fall of each year. All candidates for admission to the Graduate Tax Program must have received a baccalaureate degree and a professional degree in law from approved colleges or universities. Admission is based upon a careful evaluation of the student's law school performance, LSAT score, recommendations from law school instructors, employment experience and similar relevant factors. In general, admission is limited to students who rank in the upper 50% of their law school class. Candidates whose law degrees are from foreign countries may be asked to supply supplemental data before their applications are accepted for review.

Admission Procedures

1. Complete the enclosed application form and other materials and return them with the application fee ($30) not later than July 15, 1990 to: Admissions Office, Marshall-Wythe School of Law, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, VA 23185. There is an advantage to completing the application early in the year, since applications are considered in light of existing openings at the time the application is complete. Only under extraordinary circumstances will an application received after July 15 be considered.

2. Submit two letters of recommendation from law faculty members. If you have been out of law school for more than three (3) years, one letter submitted by an individual who is able to evaluate your potential for success in the tax program is sufficient. Letters of recommendation are to be returned to: Admissions Office, Marshall-Wythe School of Law, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, VA 23185. Both letters must be returned as early as possible, but no later than July 15, 1990.

3. Have official transcripts of all undergraduate, graduate and law work submitted directly to the Marshall-Wythe School of Law. An official transcript of all but the final semester of your law work must be on file before your application will be considered complete.

4. Make arrangements to have an official copy of your LSAT score sent to the Marshall-Wythe School of Law (code #5115) by submitting this request in writing to: Law School Admission Council/Law School Admission Services (LSAS), Box 2000T, Newtown, PA 18940-0995 Attn: Test Administration. Be sure to include your name (and the name under which you originally registered with this service if different from your current name), your social security number, birthdate, date of test administration(s) and a check in the amount of $20.00 made payable to LSAS.

5. If admitted, have a transcript showing conferral of a professional degree in law forwarded directly to the Marshall-Wythe School of Law.

6. Applicants seeking financial aid must file the Financial Aid Form (FAF) through the College Scholarship Service.

7. Applicants claiming entitlement to in-state educational privileges in accordance with Section 23-7.4 of the Code of Virginia must submit the Application for Virginia In-State Tuition Rate when initially applying for admission to the Law School.

The Paul M. Shapiro Memorial Scholarship

In the Master of Laws in Taxation Program, juniors and seniors enrolled in courses in economics and finance in the School of Business at the College of William and Mary may be eligible for this scholarship. The family of the late Paul M. Shapiro has established this scholarship in memory of him. The Scholarship is awarded on an annual basis to two law students majoring in tax law.

The J.D. Carneal Scholarship

This scholarship is awarded on an annual basis to a candidate for the degree of Master of Laws in Taxation who shows unusual promise in the practice of tax law. It has been made possible by the continuing generosity of Mrs. J.D. Carneal of Richmond, Virginia, who established the scholarship in memory of her husband, the late J.D. Carneal.
THE LAW LIBRARY

Numerous rates are available for computer-assisted instruction, as well as student word processing. The library also subscribes to the Lexis, Nexis, Phinet, and Dialog databases.

EVENING TAX PROGRAM

The objective of the Evening Tax Program is to enable eligible members of the bar and the accounting profession to improve or refresh their tax knowledge. The program is designed to help those who must work during the day in the legal and accounting professions to keep pace with rapidly changing tax laws. It is expected that two courses from the Graduate Tax curriculum will be offered in the evening each semester.

Admission to the Evening Tax Program is open to attorneys having degrees from approved law schools, or certified public accountants having degrees from approved public accounting institutions. Classes may be taken either for graded credit or audited. Students enrolling as auditors will not receive credit. At least 10 credit hours of graded work will be required each year. Continuation of evening offerings in the tax program is, however, dependent upon satisfactory enrollment levels.

Courses will be offered in the evening each semester.

The Annual William and Mary Tax Conference was begun in 1955. The proceedings of the first conference, devoted to the History and Philosophy of Taxation, have been reprinted several times and still attract wide readership. After three decades of successive conferences, the annual proceedings have become a regular publishing event and now are distributed to several thousand law and accounting firms, law libraries and other interested individuals. The Tax Conference makes available to law students and practitioners timely and important factual information on current developments in state and federal tax law, regulations and procedures. The Tax Conference is usually held on the first weekend in December.
