WILDLIFE PRINTS

Many years ago, renowned animal artist Guy Coheleach generously donated his rare, limited-edition wildlife prints to the Marshall-Wythe School of Law for resale, with proceeds going to the Marshall-Wythe Environmental Law Fund.

These fine portraits, not available elsewhere, may be purchased through:

The Environmental Practice News is a publication of the Environmental Law Society of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law, The College of William and Mary in Virginia. The opinions expressed are those of the authors and do not necessarily reflect the position of the Society.

ABOUT THE EPN

Since its first issue in 1975, the Environmental Practice News has provided information of general interest and practical value to practicing attorneys, state government decision makers, educators, and students.

In our efforts to publish relevant and up-to-date material, the EPN appreciates submissions from our readers. The EPN encourages all interested law students and other members of the legal community to contribute academic articles, comments on environmental litigation, and information on upcoming environmental events.

We have mailed this issue to the law schools, City and Commonwealth Attorneys, conservation organizations, and individual practitioners in Virginia who were listed in our last mailing list. If you have any comments regarding the publication, or would like to be dropped from or added to our mailing list, please contact us. We look forward to your input.

If you wish to continue receiving the EPN, please return the form below to:
