BACK ^{THE} BARRISTERS ^{BALL}

Plans for the first annual Barristers' Ball, to be held Friday, May 5, from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. at the Virginia Room of the Williamsburg Lodge, are nearing completion. Steve Harris, Law Day Committee Chairman, states that reservations are being received daily, but hopes for an upswing in ticket sales within the next two weeks.

Engraved invitations have been sent to more than 700 people, including all students, faculty members, alumni and local dignitaries. However, so far only about 40 replies have been received. This means that sales have only reached the one-third mark toward the break-even point of 125 tickets. Thus, all students are urged to make their reservations within the next two weeks, so that final plans can be completed.

If 125 tickets are not sold, the SBA, which is sponsoring the dance, may be faced with a severe financial deficit, which could impair its activities in the near future. Affairs of this type have been held all too seldom at the law school and in the college community generally. If we are to see more of them, it is imperative that the student body lend its support to the Barristers' Ball, which promises to be a fine evening's entertainment.

Tickets for the evening's activities cost only $10.00, and include all refreshments, especially liquor, mixes and set-ups, as well as other refreshments. Meyer Davis' Society Orchestra will play continuously
