4th CIRCUIT KEY AWARD TO SBA

The "Silver Key" representative of the outstanding Student Bar Association President of the fourth circuit was awarded this past weekend to Gus Smith. Smith said that the honor was twofold. "The award is more indicative of an effective Student Bar Association. Without the support and imagination of the executive committee and committee heads and the general cooperation of students a fulfilling administration would have been impossible."

Each school in the circuit has the opportunity of nominating their president for the award. Marshall-Wythe's nomination took the form of an annual report of activities and purposes. It was submitted to Charles Houston this circuit's vice-president by Jack Coffey. Houston chose the outstanding nominee and then submitted the nomination with his endorsement to the national executive council. The award was announced during the Law School Divisions circuit convention this past weekend.
