W&M Law School Names Donaldson Associate Dean

Richmond Times-Dispatch News Bureau

WILLIAMSBURG — John F. Donaldson, formerly a professor at the University of Virginia School of Law, has been appointed associate dean of the Marshall-Wythe School of Law at the College of William and Mary, effective Sept. 1.

Donaldson, who was pro- voked at the rank of full professor in June and named the school’s dean, will continue to teach classes in the law school.

James R. White, dean of the law school, in announcing Donaldson’s appointment, said the position of associate dean would be expanded to give Donaldson a faculty role in the overall direction of the law school.

Prior to joining the William and Mary law faculty in 1990, Donaldson was a professor of business administration at the University of Virginia. Since 1990, he has been a candidate for the EIS.
