1980

Classes to Start at New W&M Law Site

Richmond Times-Dispatch

Repository Citation
http://scholarship.law.wm.edu/wspong/29
Classes to Start at New W&M Law Site

WILLIAMSBURG — The nation's oldest law school in the United States has moved into its new site.

Classes will begin in the morning and William & Mary law school administrator's office is functional and fully equipped with the area.

There are five rugs on the highly polished parquet floors of the foyer. Those, he added, were given by all state colleges of Oxford University, recognizing the 200th anniversary of the university's faculty of law, established in William and Mary.

The surprise to the law school was, discovered in the century.

There are five rugs in the highly polished parquet floor of the foyer. They were given by the state colleges of Oxford University.