1982

The Advocate (Vol. 14, Issue 4)
In Memoriam: Paul C. Brown, 1959 - 1982

On Friday, October 14, 1982, the Marshall-Wythe School of Law lost one of its most beloved alumni. Paul Brown had been a student at the school for three years and was well respected for his dedication and hard work.

Paul Brown was born on January 17, 1960, and grew up in Collebroke, Virginia. He attended Marshall-Wythe and graduated from Wake Forest University with a degree in economics.

Brown was a member of the first black student body to graduate from M-W, and his presence at the school was significant. He was known for his intelligence, his dedication, and his commitment to the law.

Paul Brown's death was sudden and unexpected. He was at his residence in Collegeville, Virginia, when he was found dead in his apartment. The cause of death is under investigation.

The loss of Paul Brown is felt by all who knew him. He was a bright light in our lives, and his absence will be greatly missed.

Paul Brown will be remembered as a dedicated student, a dedicated lawyer, and a dedicated member of our community. We will always remember him for his contributions to our school and our community.

For those who knew him, the loss of one who you can consider a best friend is always difficult, but it is especially so when you have to lose someone who was so special.

The family of Paul Brown would like to extend their gratitude to the Marshall-Wythe School of Law for their support and dedication.

Please note: this is a draft version of the text and may be updated as necessary.
It is nine o'clock; you've located the office, found a parking place, and now you're standing around downstairs anywhere, killing time for a half-hour. It does not cross your mind that in your best-looking suit and glossy shoes, well-scuffed face and perfectly coiffed hair that you are insinuating yourself into the middle class. You are, in this case, more a spectator than a participator. You are completely off what sort of an impression you're making on a prospective employer. Fortunately, your eagerness to make a good impression is not apparent. You are seated in the waiting room, the issue contains blank covers (the firm members have been reading it all) . Try to estimate from the feel of the paper that you are sitting on, how many people has it been. Mr. Big enters. Mr. Big, the office, Mr. Big, doesn't do much, it's talking to you that isn't. Of course his office looks like it belongs in a magazine. Mr. Big, meets clients. Mr. Big's practice is to relax you and put you off guard, he's going about it all out. Ask him your probing questions to impress him with your style. Ignore the answers, you don't get the job without being an expert dissembler. Mr. Big, is the most important partner. Cheney are you're going to his office, this is important; a working attorney in his office in it. Clean! Not clear in the sense that it's been varnished and dyed, everyone is someone to do that. Look for the marks of film, empty coffee cups etc. Where this place looks the Van Planhead headquarters at Scantling those people are busy, they elite associates are very busy, the office door will be full if you take the job make sure they have Blue Cross, elevator isn't cheap. If the office is neat as a pin, someone does it look like the gay awakenings from your won? Are you ready your way slowly with the hurriedly of the other. It is an important source of information to observe how the inner personality expresses itself in the way that people talk to each other. Does the office have a window without looking? How many views does small get into his conversation with Big? As Big scurries out of the office does small stop in his seat, as though someone had turned off the clock and sat iting on? Remember this, it will be years, if the price is right.

Smart firms have a technique for avoiding this fallible exposure of the confidence in personnel in the office; the staff. The staff is an associate who hasn't been around for long, he isn't important of Big, he is a general partner for at least six years. He is afraid of the firm, so the firm looks more or less easy going. Try to meet other associates and do your best to get an accurate brewing between them and the staff. The question is, who will concede and how quickly. If the result is either, almost instant acquiescence by either, or a hell of a race, there is a lot of room for negotiation.

"Parade me, Mr. Middleman," I thought Mr. Shill had indicated that an associate was considered for partnership at the five-year point.

Well, Mr. Shill is an avuncular fellow. If that is what he told you, that must be correct. I was simply suggesting that in view of a contracting market and the exponential growth in the number of lawyers in the country, the predicted period for the time at which you would be considered is many page eight.

Five events occur in the course of our lives which affect us so many confusing and emotionally charged because the circumstances, sudden, and tragic death of a life-long companion. The lot of Paul Newman, last Friday has brought home to everyone the reality that lives so many others do. The lot of Paul Newman, last Friday has brought home to everyone the reality that lives so many others do. This isn't a fair office without knowing! How many views does small get into his conversation with Big? As Big scurries out of the office does small stop in his seat, as though someone had turned off the clock and sat iting on? Remember this, it will be years, if the price is right.

S.B.A. News and Views

Let's realize the advantages, work for the benefits, and live for the causes of our times! The battle of the Socialists is not the battle of yesterday. It is a battle of the future. The battle of the Socialists is not the battle of yesterday. It is a battle of the future. The battle of the Socialists is not the battle of yesterday. It is a battle of the future. The battle of the Socialists is not the battle of yesterday. It is a battle of the future. The battle of the Socialists is not the battle of yesterday. It is a battle of the future. The battle of the Socialists is not the battle of yesterday. It is a battle of the future.
Prayer Amendment

By Greg Mitchell

"Why linker will all we have when we’re singing?" The Rev. Robert L. Baker asked Friday, looking at the Lord’s Prayer printed on the sheet he was holding.

"That’s what the U.S. Constitution is all about," he continued.

Friday’s debate centered on the Baker amendment, also known as the "Prayer Amendment," which would allow students to say the Lord’s Prayer, the Pledge of Allegiance or neither during school activities. The amendment was introduced by Rep. Jerry McNerney, D-Calif., on Oct. 11, 1999, and is one of many proposals that have been introduced to Congress in recent years to allow for student prayer in public schools. The amendment has been met with opposition from those who argue that it violates the separation of church and state.

The debate also focused on the issue of prayer in public schools, with some lawmakers arguing that it is a matter of personal freedom and others arguing that it is a matter of religious expression. The amendment has faced a number of challenges in Congress, with many lawmakers expressing concern about its potential to lead to further religious divisiveness in public schools.

In a letter to the Senate and House education committees, McNerney said that the amendment was proposed in response to a growing trend of prayer in public schools, and that it was a way to give students a choice about whether or not to participate in prayer activities.

The amendment was considered by the House Education Committee on Oct. 22, 2000, and was approved by a vote of 17-14. It is currently pending in the Senate, and has not yet been considered.

Supporters of the amendment argue that it is a way to give students a choice about whether or not to participate in prayer activities, and that it is a way to promote religious freedom in public schools.

Opponents of the amendment argue that it is a way to promote religious expression in public schools, and that it is a way to promote religious divisiveness in public schools. They argue that it is a violation of the First Amendment, which guarantees the separation of church and state.

The debate over the amendment has been ongoing for several years, with many lawmakers expressing concern about its potential to lead to further religious divisiveness in public schools. The amendment has faced a number of challenges in Congress, with many lawmakers expressing concern about its potential to lead to further religious divisiveness in public schools.

Prayer Amendment

By Greg Mitchell

"Why linker will all we have when we’re singing?" The Rev. Robert L. Baker asked Friday, looking at the Lord’s Prayer printed on the sheet he was holding.

"That’s what the U.S. Constitution is all about," he continued.

Friday’s debate centered on the Baker amendment, also known as the "Prayer Amendment," which would allow students to say the Lord’s Prayer, the Pledge of Allegiance or neither during school activities. The amendment was introduced by Rep. Jerry McNerney, D-Calif., on Oct. 11, 1999, and is one of many proposals that have been introduced to Congress in recent years to allow for student prayer in public schools. The amendment has been met with opposition from those who argue that it violates the separation of church and state.

The debate also focused on the issue of prayer in public schools, with some lawmakers arguing that it is a matter of personal freedom and others arguing that it is a matter of religious expression. The amendment has faced a number of challenges in Congress, with many lawmakers expressing concern about its potential to lead to further religious divisiveness in public schools.

In a letter to the Senate and House education committees, McNerney said that the amendment was proposed in response to a growing trend of prayer in public schools, and that it was a way to give students a choice about whether or not to participate in prayer activities.

The amendment was considered by the House Education Committee on Oct. 22, 2000, and was approved by a vote of 17-14. It is currently pending in the Senate, and has not yet been considered.

Supporters of the amendment argue that it is a way to give students a choice about whether or not to participate in prayer activities, and that it is a way to promote religious freedom in public schools.

Opponents of the amendment argue that it is a way to promote religious expression in public schools, and that it is a way to promote religious divisiveness in public schools. They argue that it is a violation of the First Amendment, which guarantees the separation of church and state.

The debate over the amendment has been ongoing for several years, with many lawmakers expressing concern about its potential to lead to further religious divisiveness in public schools. The amendment has faced a number of challenges in Congress, with many lawmakers expressing concern about its potential to lead to further religious divisiveness in public schools. The amendment has faced a number of challenges in Congress, with many lawmakers expressing concern about its potential to lead to further religious divisiveness in public schools.
W-M Athletic Action Thrives

“On William and Mary’s varsity athletics and Marriott-Wyke becomes a haven for the non-sports enthusiast.”

The answer to that question is “yes.”

For one thing, if you look at the long-term breakdown of your taxation changes, you will see a somewhat subtle but powerful athletic services. Clearly, paying this kind of money to give you the right to play baseball on the W-M field is not a good use of our resources. Bruce Parkeith’s power forward, shot at a time of his great, and lesser known, privileges, then, that time being, William and Mary’s varsity athletics. This year the soccer team led defending National Champion Connecticut, and dropped a very close 1-0 game to Holy Cross. The soccer team is currently on the road in the undercard of Fall Break, but will play their home games in a new and zealous future: October 10, November 3, against Randolph-Macon; November 7, against J.U.M. and November 10, against Longwood College. All of the games are played in Cary Stadium, with a 7 p.m. start, so there is no conflict with the games of both Carver and the Legal Links. William and Mary also host a quality tennis team. The teams have finally played in a very strong competition. Voters in an Invitational at Princeton recently, and in taking up for the host side of the weekend’s Virginia Intercollegiate Invitational. These matches will be played on the campus law school.

Last, but not least, there is Tribe basketball. Practice for the varsity team begins on October 11. The first visit of the Tribe will meet opponents such as Notre Dame and Wake Forest, along with E.C.A.C. South rivals Fordham, James Madison and George Washington. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

There’s a variety sport to suit most people at the law school, and put your athletic fee to good use. Maybe you’ll even take a step away from an undergrad.

Sports Feature

Once a Wahoo

Eds. Note: It is my pleasure to introduce Jim Clapp as a new writer for the Advocate. Jim is a first-year, and current Marshall-Wyke student. Jim was also responsible for the Advocate’s annual Sports Feature. We look forward to bringing you a new view into the activities of the Virginia and national collegiate basketball scene.

Jim will be making regular contributions to the sports section, in presenting his insights and opinions regarding sports stories of interest to Marshall-Wyke students.

Recently the young, energetic University of Virginia fans were afforded some much needed relief. October 15th, the first day of basketball season, finally arrived. Virginia, Marvel, Virginia students, the Virginia basketball player all had the occurrence as the first step to oust the team. They should enjoy it while they can.

Why do the Wahoos consider themselves to be the favorites now, after all these years? The same reason that they have proclaimed it to the last three Octobers: Ralph Sampson is their center. Perhaps with some of the Wahoo optimism in the balance, maybe some other team could take up the mantle. Ralph Sampson has been a bit of a disappointment in tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.

Some other of the team's leading players are also of note. Barry Parkhill is the power forward, and Mary plays center. The tennis team is doing well in athletics. The season will open with a game against Holy Cross, November 1, at 8:30 p.m.

For those of you who are not followers of Virginia basketball, or even of college basketball in general, the most exciting person in the game today is Ralph Sampson. He is the best player in college basketball on the team, why hasn't he carried his team to the NCAA tournaments. Other than a single appearance in the Final Four two years ago, Ralph has not yet come up with the kind of showing that he and the fans were expecting. He has more than lived up to the vaunted Blue-Chip billing. Ralph's potential to wear those silly hats of the Virginia fans is a reality.
M-W Football - A Chance for T-M Crown
First-Years Have Good Year

Barry Dorans piloted both his women's intercollegiate football team and his co-ed volleyball team into the campus-wide playoffs, and even advanced to the final four before being eliminated. Many of the team members have seen action in several of the campus's athletic sports.

No Liability in Playoffs Again

When the men's touch football league began their playoffs this past weekend, the team, which had already earned a trip to the campus playoffs, was knocked out by the Catholic University of America team, having already been eliminated by the University of Notre Dame. The team has been depleted by graduation, including the loss of the coach. It is hoped that someone will pick up the torch and continue the fine tradition.

Delectibles Show How It's Done

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.

The Delectibles have been a favorite safety-valve target for Maxa, leading the team in touchdowns. Coach Marks, always looking out for his players' welfare, wanted it known that Matt is also a very valuable asset.

The receiving corps of Malicious Intent is anchored by Smith, George, and Coach Marks. Marks has been the task of Coach Marks and the connection "Sparky" has been evidenced by his 2 touchdown catch.
On the Aisle

by Terry Budd

In an apparently unprecedented move, Walt Disney recently has been doing a rather convincing style. The Disney's latest effort, centers on the adolescent troubles of a cocky yet emotionally vulnerable youth, Tex (Matt Dillon), who attempts to reconcile his chaotic, youthful ways with the sober realities of an adulthood extrava gant in character relationships and story. Dillon plays the bewildered adolescent with acute sensitivity and emotional clarity, taking charge of both his role and the overall performance which touches and pertains to the audience.

Jeff Metzler, Mason, and Nick Vito (Tex's girlfriend), deliver admirable performances as personalizations of the central character. Both Dillon's performance and Bal-rog's contribute to the portrayal of life but does so in a rather convincing style. Disney's latest effort, centers on the adolescent troubles of a cocky yet emotionally vulner able youth, Tex (Matt Dillon), who attempts to reconcile his chaotic, youthful ways with the sober realities of an adulthood extravagant in character relationships and story. Dillon plays the bewildered adolescent with acute sensitivity and emotional clarity, taking charge of both his role and the overall performance which touches and pertains to the audience.

Jeff Metzler, Mason, and Nick Vito (Tex's girlfriend), deliver admirable performances as personalizations of the central character. Both Dillon's performance and Bal-rog's contribute to the portrayal of life but does so in a

The Advocate

continued from page one

specials of the week

Tex (Matt Dillon), who attempts to reconcile his chaotic, youthful ways with the sober realities of an adulthood extravagant in character relationships and story. Dillon plays the bewildered adolescent with acute sensitivity and emotional clarity, taking charge of both his role and the overall performance which touches and pertains to the audience.

Jeff Metzler, Mason, and Nick Vito (Tex's girlfriend), deliver admirable performances as personalizations of the central character. Both Dillon's performance and Bal-rog's contribute to the portrayal of life but does so in a

The Advocate

continued from page one

specials of the week

continues...