Summer Studies in Law in England

Accredited courses for American law students, offered by the

MARSHALL-WYTHER SCHOOL OF LAW

The College of William and Mary in Virginia

The third annual Program of Summer Studies in Law in England will be offered by the Marshall-Wythe School of Law at the University of Exeter in Devon, England. A six-week term from July 7-August 13, 1969 will include standard American law courses and courses in those areas of the common law where English practice has substantially reformed and modernized the law. Leading English jurists and attorneys will appear as guest lecturers, and trips to law courts, government offices and the Inns of Court in Exeter, London and other sites are planned. Full information and application forms may be obtained in your law school office or by writing Director, Summer Studies in Law in England, Marshall-Wythe School of Law, College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia 23185.
