on the campus of The University of Exeter
July 8 to August 14, 1984
CLASSES MONDAY THROUGH THURSDAY

THE COLLEGE OF WILLIAM AND MARY IN VIRGINIA

Marshall-Wythe School of Law
THE SUMMER SCHOOL OF LAW IN ENGLAND
ITS ORIGIN AND PURPOSE

The College of William and Mary in Virginia has had significant relationships with England throughout its history. The College was chartered in 1693 by the reigning sovereigns, William and Mary, whose name it bears. The College's first building was constructed in 1695 from plans attributed to the renowned English architect, Sir Christopher Wren, builder of St. Paul's Cathedral in London. Through the efforts of Thomas Jefferson, an alumnus of the College, a chair of Law and Police was established December 4, 1779, thus making William and Mary the first to offer instruction in law in the United States.

In more recent years the College's continuing relationship with England and its educational institutions has been evidenced by an active student and faculty exchange program, and by establishment of the Summer School of Law in England in 1967 on the campus of the University of Exeter in Devonshire.

The William and Mary Summer School of Law in England was the first, and is still the most extensive American program of summer law study abroad. Consonant with the proud heritage of the College, the goal of the program is to provide law instruction in the finest tradition of liberal education. A broad, attractive curriculum is taught by a large faculty of British and American teachers, expert in their fields. Concurrently, the academic and social associations with British members of the legal profession and students from other countries, and the opportunity to learn the legal, political and social practices of British society through living and travelling in England, provide a uniquely rich cultural experience for the American law student. Over one thousand future lawyers from virtually every accredited law school in the nation have attended the William and Mary Summer Law School in England. There they secured a decidedly broader "world view" of the law and their role as lawyers. This broadening of intellectual perspective is the hallmark of a liberal education, and the "alumni" of this program have carried that broadened perspective into the practice of law, business and politics. The Marshall-Wythe School of Law is proud of this unique educational service to the nation.

Distinguished members of the faculty of Exeter University School of Law agreed to teach some of the courses offered. The program has been further enriched by prominent speakers from the English Bench and Bar, as well as a clerking course with British firms.

CURRICULUM AND CREDITS

The Summer Law School in England, as an extension of the Williamsburg campus, is fully accredited. The 1984 program will consist of one five-week term with 8 courses. Class meetings and duration of classes will be in accordance with the requirements of the American Bar Association and the Association of American Law Schools. Regular class attendance will be expected. A maximum course load is six semester hours. Residence credit will be given commensurate with the number of semester hours credit carried. The Marshall-Wythe School of Law will give the same credits as if the course were being offered on the Williamsburg campus. Law schools having students at previous sessions have approved the transfer of credits for the courses taken by their students. It is urged, however, that registrants clear this matter with their Dean’s office at time of application to the program.

ACADEMIC NOTES

The law faculty of the University of Exeter established in 1972 the Centre for European Legal Studies primarily to coordinate teaching, research and training of practicing lawyers in European Economic Community law. Its broader objectives are to develop a systematic study of civil law, comparative and international law. It offers advanced work leading to the LL.M. degree, and its general program is expected to be systematically coordinated with the work of the Summer School of Law. The University of Exeter School of Law has pioneered in this area, and its courses have attracted wide attention from members of the British Bar.

Among the faculty members selected for the annual summer school of law are specialists in such subjects as international public and private law, international business transactions, civil law, and comparative law. Professor Dominik Lasok, Director of the Centre, is an internationally recognized authority on European law, having written some 100 articles on Comparative and International Law and European Community Law as well as several books in his field of expertise. He has been a visiting lecturer and visiting professor at various universities, including Vanderbilt, McGill, University of Michigan, William and Mary, Rennes, Aix-Marseille and several others.

Professor David L. Perrott, a prolific writer with more than twenty articles to his credit, is an expert in the field of International Commercial Law and European Community Law of Commerce as well as Sudanese personal property law. He has taught at several universities, including the University of Illinois and the University of Connecticut and has been on the faculty of Exeter University since 1965. He has been consultant to the British Government and the Commission of the EC on proposed, and the workings of existing, commercial legislation.
Professor John W. Bridge, on the faculty of the University of Exeter since 1961, has written numerous articles in the field of public law, particularly constitutional law, administrative law, European law and international law. His work has been published in American, English and European law reviews; he is also the author of several books in his fields of expertise. He has been a Visiting Professor at William and Mary.

One of the objectives of the Summer School of Law in England is to provide an understanding of the common law system, in the mother country of the common law. In addition to basic course work in the English legal system, many of the American law courses in the same curriculum emphasize comparisons with English law.

The legal clerking course affords the student an insight to the British practitioner's daily routine in the various aspects of the practice, including research, client consultation and courtroom experience. Discussion of the legal issues involved in the cases being handled gives the student the benefit of the British approach to legal analysis.

E10 EUROPEAN COMMUNITY LAW
General Principles (2)
Lasok & Bridge (Exeter)
Survey of the legal status of the European Community, sources of Community law, the council, commission, assembly and court of justice of the Community, implementation of Community law in member states of the Community, and enforcement of Community law. Consideration will also be given to the commercial law of the European Community.

E11 INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS (2)
Pugliese (Exeter)

E12 INTRODUCTION TO CIVIL LAW (2)
Lasok (Exeter)
A brief historical survey of the formation of West European Law from the Roman sources to the great Codes with a special reference to France; an analysis of the French Civil Code, French administrative law and some aspects of the French system (precedents, judges and lawyers).

E13 INTERNATIONAL LAW (2)
Pugliese (Exeter)
The nature and sources of international law; the relationship between international law and municipal law, the concept of statehood and recognition; the law of treaties; the protection of fundamental human rights; International organizations; International settlement of disputes; the law of war.

E15 CIVIL LIBERTIES LITIGATION (2)
Pagan (William and Mary)
The course will examine methods of obtaining redress for governmental violations of individual rights. We will emphasize civil rights suits brought under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. In selected areas, we will compare American and English law.

E16 ADMIRALTv (2)
Williams (William and Mary)
A survey of the key features of maritime law based primarily on the judicial rules and statutes of the United States and other maritime nations. Considered are maritime liens and mortgages, salvage, rules governing liability for maritime collision, rights and duties arising from personal injury and death of seamen, maritime jurisdiction, limitations of liability of ship owners and their insurers, and special problems caused by involvement of governments as parties to maritime transactions and litigation. Throughout, we will be concerned with how the law is applied and how our system compares with that of other maritime nations.

E17 INTERNATIONAL LAW OF THE SEAS (2)
Williams (William and Mary)
A survey of the recent, dynamic developments in the international law of the seas. Special attention will be given to such major issues as the right of national control over territorial seas, contiguous zones, fishery and other resources zones, the protection of the marine environment, and the rights of States and private enterprises to exploit the mineral resources of the deep seabed.

E21 LEGAL CLERKING (1)
Lasok (Exeter)
A limited number of legal clerking positions with British law firms are available on a first come, first served basis. Specific information will be furnished upon registration.

TUITION AND EXPENSES
Notwithstanding a high inflation rate in Britain, we were able to convince the University of Exeter authorities to hold the room and board fees approximately to the same level as that of the prior year. These actions are in keeping with our traditional objective of offering our program at the most reasonable charges to enable the greatest number of students to participate.

| Registration fee (non-refundable) | $75.00 |
| Tuition | $575.00 |
| Room* and Board | $650.00 |

Room and board is available beginning Sunday, August 13, 1984, and ending at 11:00 a.m. on Saturday, August 19, 1984.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICANTS
March 15, 1984 - Last date for submitting applications and required supporting documents for those seeking tuition scholarships.

May 1, 1984 - Last date for submitting applications for those not seeking tuition scholarships. Because of the limited enrollment, however, it is recommended that applications be filed well in advance of this date, since, in fairness, qualified applicants will be accepted in the order their applications are received. The forms on the last two pages of this brochure should be used.

May 10, 1984 - Last date for payment of $560 for room and board. This payment is refundable subject to penalty depending on date of cancellations.

May 20, 1984 - Full payment of tuition. Tuition is refundable thereafter only if applicant is unable to attend for verified reasons of illness or military service obligation. Withdrawal for other reasons is subject to 10% tuition penalty.
